Welcome to Friday's update. It's been a challenging week to say the least but we have all persevered.

Day 4 for Child Nutrition—our CN ladies and volunteers continue to work hard to provide meals to our students. Kudos to everyone!! I understand some workers even wore costumes today—that must have been lots of fun. 955 breakfast and 955 lunch meals were served today, bringing our weekly total to—drumroll please—4,786 meals served—is that not amazing? We have such great people who genuinely care about helping one another. Remember—full bus delivery will be operational next week. You will receive more information later on bus delivery.

Attention students in grades K-6: Our local McDonald's is providing a free of charge meal to every K-6 student who is accompanied by a parent or guardian from 4:00 pm-7:00 pm every day of the week until the end of March. The student meal will include the student's choice of a 4 pc Nugget, plain hamburger or plain cheeseburger and a small French fry. A big shout out to Don and Mary Anne Moore—they are always so very supportive of our communities.

Parents and students—the weather is supposed to be warm this weekend, so hopefully you can enjoy some fun outdoor activities together.

Ok—time for more fun facts. Students—Did you know that a hippopotamus can run faster than a man, that it is physically impossible for pigs to look up into the sky and that a crocodile cannot stick its tongue out? Neither did I! Have a great weekend—I'll be back in touch soon!!!
